What to do in case of an accident

1. Call medical services (114) or police (999) for injuries.
2. Take photos/videos of the accident scene.
3. Inform your car rental agency as soon as possible to receive proper guidance. (Hotline numbers on your rental agreement)
4. A company representative may arrive at the scene if needed. Insurance will decide which party is at fault.

In case of an accident with another vehicle:

- Complete the Accident Form (found in the car's glove box) and exchange vehicle insurance and license details with the other driver/s.
- Both parties need to sign the form, and you must submit this document to your car rental agency.
- The form in the vehicle's glove box is a carbonless duplicate form that produces two copies when filled out. Only one party should complete the form at the accident scene, with one copy kept by each party.
- Do not fill out the form and inform the police about the accident if the other driver appears drunk, under drugs or has no driving licence.
- Please don't fill out the form if there are casualties. You need to call 999 & ask for help. They will send the police & ambulance to your location.
- Always stay calm & do not admit fault or sign any other documents releasing someone's liability. Just fill out the accident statement of facts form, and the insurance will decide which party is at fault.

Different rental agencies may have specific procedures for handling accidents. Please consult with your agency to understand the detailed protocols you should follow in the event of an accident.
